

In the great fly over country of America we need to have all types of communications available during our daily lives of travel and work. Why would you want to restrict any information that we can access. I think we should further develop the satellite radio capabilities that could serve us well in any emergency as well as in our day to day lives.